

Appalachian Pastel Society Exhibition Liability Disclaimer And Publicity Permission

Insurance is not provided by APS to cover loss or damage. Artists are encouraged to provide their own insurance if they feel the need for coverage.

Reasonable care will be taken in transporting, handling, storing, and installing the paintings submitted for APS exhibitions.

The artist understands, however, that accidents can happen, and will not hold APS or persons involved in helping with a show, responsible.

Some galleries or facilities carry policies for events that will cover the artwork while at the show. In no case will insurance cover any damage to the artwork resulting from poor or faulty craftsmanship.

The artist understands that it is possible that photographs of the artist and/or their paintings may be used for publicity in various media, including the internet, and gives permission.

By signing this Disclaimer, the artist acknowledges and accepts the conditions presented.

THIS SIGNED DISCLAIMER MUST ACCOMPANY ARTWORK DELIVERED TO A SHOW.
